SIP ABACUS PROGRAMME

The SIP Abacus Programme is a "whole brain development" programme combining Abacus, Brain Gym and Speed Writing. Developed by SIP Academy Malaysia in 1997, this programme has considerably advanced the abacus training worldwide. The SIP Abacus Programme focuses on children aged 6 – 12 yrs. The knowledge of numbers from 0 – 9 is all that is required to start with. "The more I practice, the smarter I get" is the mantra for this skill based programme.

The SIP Abacus Programme is being conducted in India since January 2003 and has benefitted more than 4,75,000 children across 630 Learning Centres in 275 towns & cities in 22 states.

PROGRAMME FEATURES

- The only international programme which combines Abacus and Brain Gym techniques for whole brain development.
- Programme designed by certified trainer for Abacus and international instructor & facilitator of Brain Gym Mr. Kelvin Tham.
- Instructors intensively trained in Abacus Methodology.
- Well structured curriculum with child friendly course material.

HOW IT WORKS

The SIP Abacus Programme has 3 components - Abacus, Brain Gym & Speed Writing.

Abacus is a calculating instrument with Beads and Rods. Abacus learners are trained to work with the instrument and later visualise the instrument to perform the same calculations. In this process of performing mental arithmetic calculations, they use visual, auditory and sensory inputs to analyse and solve problems. While improving coordination between the left and the right brain, practising abacus regularly also improves visual memory and overall learning ability. These findings are supported by scientific researches done in Japan and China in the mid 90's.

Brain Gym exercises designed by Dr. Paul Dennison enhance communication flow between functional centres of the brain and remove mental blocks, resulting in whole brain development. Speed writing helps children write legibly at a faster pace.
